THE IVANHOE APPLE.

DESCRIPTION.—Medium to large; well proportioned; color, a light golden yellow when mellow; sometimes slightly shaded with red; cavity shallow; basin shallow; shape round, conical; rich sub-acid, pippin flavor. Trees grow to fine size; bear abundantly every year. Fruit hangs on the tree till Christmas—keeps all the year round with no special care. Special premiums awarded the Ivanhoe apple as to its size, eating and keeping qualities, both at the Lynchburg and Richmond fairs in October, 1886, also at the Farmville fair, October, 1889, and a complimentary certificate as to the merits of the Ivanhoe awarded by the Virginia State Agricultural Society December 27th, 1886.

WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT THE IVANHOE APPLE.

R. H. Harris, Moorestown, N. J., says: "I have eaten the Ivanhoe apple. In May and June almost everyone has felt a desire for a fresh, juicy apple to eat, which desire this apple will satisfy."

R. W. Brightwell, Prospect, Va.: "I have gathered fruit from the original tree. Excellent eating apple; fine size; good for market; keeps long after other winter apples are gone."

W. O. Hurt, fruit dealer, Lynchburg, Va.: "It is a good apple."

H. L. Lyman, associate editor of Fruit and Grape Grower, Charlottesville, Va.: "Sprightly pippin flavor; evidently of pippin type."

Editor Farm and Home, Dover, Del.: "Our Delaware and Maryland fruit-growers should try the Ivanhoe apple."

Dr. T. H. Venable, Prospect, Va.: "The flavor to my taste is all that I could wish. It has kept on my place till gathering time in fall."

Horticulturist, Bridgton, New Jersey: "We think the Ivanhoe is destined to become one of our best winter apples."

The late James Fitz, associate-editor Fruit and Grape Grower, Charlottesville, Va.: "This new apple doubtless deserves the attention of fruit-growers."

The editor of the Southern Planter, Richmond, Va., in the December No., 1888, says: "We have eaten the Ivanhoe Apple and find it firm, after the likeness of the Albemarle Pippin.—Very juicy and rich in flavor.—It is a very fine apple and should be carefully propagated."

Hon. H. E. Van Deman, United States Pomologist, Washington, D. C., September 23, 1887, says: "After cutting the apples, I should judge the variety to be a late keeper, and of good quality." April 9th, 1890, he says: "The Ivanhoe proves to be a good keeper."

J. K. Shirk, M. D., Lancaster, Pa., writes March 10th, 1890: "The quality of the Ivanhoe is good, and it certainly keeps."

E. W. Robertson, Piedmont Nurseries, Albemarle county, Va., writes of the Ivanhoe apple: "The fruit loving public will hail with delight the introduction of this wonderful and desirable apple, possessing, as it does, so many desirable qualities. We believe there will be a greater demand for this variety than for any apple introduced in Virginia for many years."

The Salem Nursery says: "We think the Ivanhoe has a grand future before it."
